Our Marching Orders...

Friends,

I am thankful for another opportunity to provide you an update. March is International Women's History Month. Women's History Month celebrations take place across the nation in tribute to societal achievements and contributions by women. Right here in Tamarac, in an initiative sponsored by me, we will launch a new campaign. This initiative will advocate for women who live and work in Tamarac. Additionally, the campaign is named in honor of the late U.S. Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg.

My colleagues and I voted unanimously, during the March 10th Commission meeting, to implement the City's new Ruth Bader Ginsburg Commission on the Status of Women. The goal of the newly adopted Women's Commission is to identify and resolve economic, health and social disparities. Especially those that fail to promote gender equality and empowerment of women in Tamarac.

Miramar who adopted this idea in her city and was proud to champion the same in Tamarac.

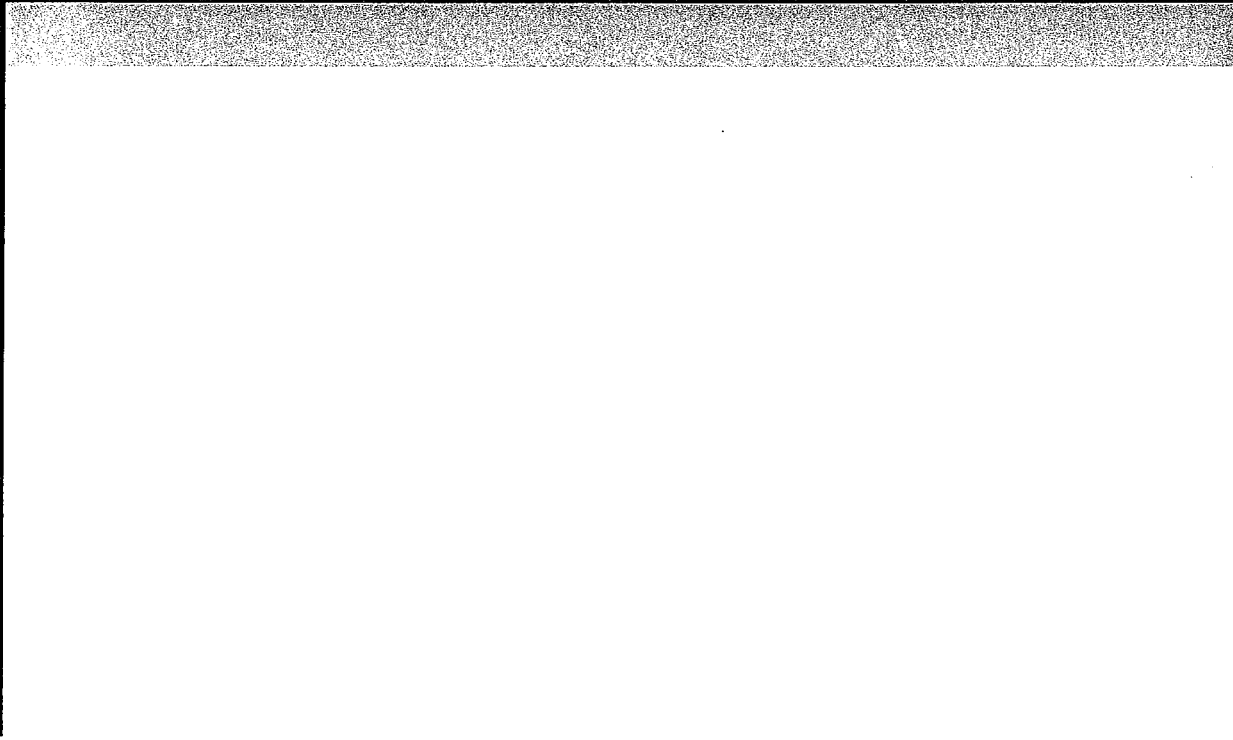

The five-member board is tasked with conducting studies about women. Specifically, to make policy and ordinance recommendations to the City's Mayor and Commission.

Recommendations will focus on fair and equal treatment, health, wellness, education and training. To reflect the diverse perspectives of the Tamarac community, the Mayor and Commissioners will appoint one board member to represent our respective constituents.

Under the guidance of the Tamarac Human Resources Department, the Ruth Bader Ginsburg Commission on the Status of Women will also advocate for women employed by the City. The Women's Commission is additionally tasked with monitoring and evaluating the City's employee pay scale. As a result it seeks to ensure equal compensation for women performing the same work as male counterparts.

Finally, I have attached a few resources below that will help you navigate some of the initiatives happening in and around our City.
